Prosecutor Comments:

Legality Of Proposed Air Board Questioned

By JEAN WORTH

Delta County's new board of supervisors is confronted with a very unusual demand for a local ordinance in the Save Our Air Committee's campaign for an air pollution control ordinance. County Prosecutor John Beauchamp told the Delta County Study Committee Monday night at the County Building.

The meeting was the last in the committee's year-long study of county government. It was created by the new five-man county board of supervisors and named by Chairman Frank Stupak.

Beauchamp said that he didn't know, offhand, of any other ordinances applying similarly in Delta County. He said that dog control and other policing actions are under state statutes.

Confronted with the demand for an air pollution control ordinance, said Beauchamp, who is the board's legal counsel, the board "really didn't know what to do," but finally decided that it had to do something.

"But there was no real direction," he said. "Everyone goes off on his own, and when board members are before groups and under pressures, the words come out a little different."

Study Suggested

He expressed conviction that the board, confronted with such a situation again in the future, would act differently. His own suggestion to the board was that it create a citizens' committee to make a study of the situation and a recommendation to the board. This would have enabled the board to bring in expert opinion on the subject where it was lacking on the board, said Beauchamp.

"The board," Beauchamp told the study committee, "can adopt an ordinance, but the county is only a branch of state government and has only the powers granted to it by the state."

Questions Authority

"There is a very serious question whether the county board can set up an autonomous board to set up an air pollution control system for the county, because the people have the right to protection by the officials they elect to office and the proposed autonomous board would determine what suits would be brought (for air pollution) and what would not."

(The ordinance proposed to the board by Save Our Air would create an air pollution control board of seven members to be appointed by the board of supervisors to enforce the ordinance. And the state and federal laws against air pollution.)

Carl Anderson, a member of the study committee, commended the efforts of the Save Our Air Committee. It is, he said, good to see the people standing up for their rights against an "establishment" which has not been much concerned about the people's inherent rights in their environment. (He used "establishment" in the sense of the total industrial economy and not Mead Corp., whose plans to build a kraft pulp mill triggered the Save Our Air efforts for an air pollution control ordinance in Delta County. SOA fears an odor nuisance from the mill.)

Election Procedure

In discussion on other county government issues, Beauchamp told the committee:

1. That he thought it a mistake to elect county officers on a political party basis. "When one party dominates for years (as the Democrats have done in Delta) you can run under that party's banner and win," said Beauchamp, "and you can get some pretty poor county officers that way. The only reason for partisan county elections seems to be to create strength for the party, not the county."

2. The new five-man county board's approval of the county budget each year seems to be its main function. It hears complaints and proposes building a road to Fayette, but there is no money for that, so it is not done. Who do you go to for county action — a county board meeting for a couple times? (This in reaction to comment that county government lacks a manager, or officer coordinating all departments of county government.)

County Policies?

3. Delta County has four police organizations, the State Police, the Sheriff's Department, the City of Escanaba Police and the City of Gladstone Police. Beauchamp said organization of a county police department would serve both efficiency and economy. "They're talking about a new police station in Escanaba and we've got one (the new county jail in Escanaba) that would accommodate all Delta County and which has only one man on duty at night. Gladstone has only one policeman on duty days and a fireman often answers the police phone."

4. "We must find cheaper ways to do things" (in local government).

5. "The county, as a unit of government, has got to take a more active role. Without a county manager I don't see how we are ever going to accomplish things at the county level.

Crime Small Stuff

6. "Our people have good protection from the law. Crime is small stuff here compared with Wayne. Since I have been prosecutor I have had no first offender over 23 years old. The breakings and enterings are all in the 17 to 19 age bracket. Kids misbehave from 12 to 16 and no one does anything about it and then they do the same thing at 17 and all at once they are before the circuit judge and he doesn't smile when he says they can be sent away (to prison) for 10 years. I have not had over one case of a boy involved in over one such breaking and entering."

7. "I think Dean Shipman is developing a good District Court. If we have a good probation system we can rehabilitate some of them. The Prosecutor's job has increased with the District Court. With the justices of the peace the prosecutor didn't usually show his face, now he may be two days on a traffic case."

8. "The Juvenile Department of Probate Court is developing more need for the prosecutor to represent the state."

9. "The broken family is the greatest single cause of crime."

U.P. Schools Told To Live With Forest Act

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today that hard-pressed Northern Michigan communities and school districts must live with the state's Commercial Forest Reserves Act because it is constitutional.

But the Legislature, in passing the 1925 Forest Reserves Act, did so constitutionally, Kelley said, because it is specifically authorized to "provide for alternative means of taxation" under Article 9, Section 3 of the 1963 state Constitution.

"Whether public policy should countenance the preferential treatment of owners of commercial forest reserves is within the discretion of the Legislature," Kelley said. "Concern over diminishing local revenues must be addressed to the Legislature which has authority to respond," he added.

C&NW Reports To State Today On Dust Control

The Chicago & North Western Railway today is scheduled to report to the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission in Lansing on the Railway's plans for the control of dust at its $16.5 million ore handling facility in Escanaba.

The North Western will be represented at the meeting by W. H. Huffman, assistant vice president chief engineer.

The Delta Citizens Committee to Save Our Air will be represented at the meeting also, as will the Delta County Board of Supervisors. The Commission has submitted to the Board of Supervisors a proposed county air control ordinance, which is under consideration by the Board.

Amer Pederson, president of the Save Our Air Committee, is scheduled to show to the Commission a moving picture of dust conditions at the C&NW ore facility; and H. George Nelson, Escanaba, member of the Board of Supervisors, will represent the County Board at the Lansing meeting which opened at 10:30 a. m. today.

The operations of the North Western's new ore loading plant, begun last spring and scheduled to continue into late December until shipping ends, brought complaints from residents of the area about the quantity of dust. The Air Pollution Control Commission asked the C&NW for a report on its control plans.

Huffman of the North Western has publicly reported that the Railway is working on a solution and that a dust suppression and collection system may cost upwards of $400,000.

"We assure you that the Railway is cognizant of your concern but, with an expenditure of this size, it is necessary that we carefully review all of the aspects of the new installation," Huffman advised the Escanaba Daily Press.

Larry S. Provo, president of the North Western, told the Daily Press:

"The subscribers of your paper and our friends and partners, the citizens of Escanaba, should be reassured by our commitment to do everything in our power to eliminate the dust which emanates from the dock operation."

Woman Slain For 5 Cents; Boy, 13, Held In Custody

DETROIT (AP) — Clinging to her purse which contained five cents, a 70-year-old Detroit widow suffered a fatal beating by four would-be purse snatchers Monday night.

Mrs. Florence Knotts, who lived alone on her social security income, died of head injuries in a Detroit hospital some eight hours after the beating.

Patrolman Allen Hughes said he was driving in his patrol car when he saw four youths attack her. He said one of them struck her on the head with an unidentified object. Hughes pursued and said he caught one of the youths, a 13-year-old boy now in custody.

Neighbors where the widow lived for the past six years said they knew little about Mrs. Knotts, except she had been robbed of four dollars two months ago by a 12-year-old purse snatcher.

Three Injured In Auto Mishap

Three young Escanaba area girls were injured in a one-car mishap on County Rd. 535 near Bark River late Saturday night.

According to State Police, Jeanne Flath, 18, 1710 Ludington St., Escanaba, was headed north on County Rd. 535 when a tire blew out on her car causing her to lose control.

Police said she ran off the right side of the road and smashed into the Bark River Methodist Church.

The driver and two passengers, Linda Terrien, 18, of Cornell, and Linda Dye, 18, of Escanaba, were hurt in the accident. All three were taken by City Ambulance to St. Francis Hospital.

Linda Terrien is listed in satisfactory condition this morning at the hospital. The others were treated and released.

Police issued no citations.

Roads, Winter Trails Urged For Peninsula

Kenneth Dorman, secretary-manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, told a Republican Task Force on natural resources Monday night that snowmobiling in the near future will generate more revenue for the Upper Peninsula than skiing.

Dorman said overall winter sports activities by 1975 will pass summer activities in importance to tourism in the U. P. and urged legislative action to provide additional snowmobile trails and to improve highways in the U. P.

Rep. Jack Payant (R-Kingsford) and Mrs. Ernest (Barbara) Nebel of Kipling, members of the task force appointed by Gov. William Milliken, heard statements from Dorman, three members of the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air, and O. C. Christiansen, manager of the Escanaba Paper Co., at the hearing.

Payant said purpose of the task force is "to get information" for the governor and for the party so the party can formulate "a real strong platform."

Asks Access Roads

Dorman urged that the state provide more access roads to its forests in the Upper Peninsula and that the state also take a "good look" at the entire road system in the U. P. He said there already is a great need for highway improvement, specifically passing lanes on highways to allow traffic to move freely with camper units on the roads, etc.

He also suggested speedup of plans for scenic roads in the Upper Peninsula and the state legalizing the "posting" of unpaved county, state and federal forest roads in winter system of snowmobile trails.

Dorman said posting of the unpaved roads would give the U. P. $400 million of trails instantly without great expense.

The "Save Our Air" delegation—Amer Pederson, Ed Griffin and Ray Sabucco—asked for state assistance in setting up local air pollution control ordinances and also appealed for additional state specialists to work in the Upper Peninsula.

Stronger Standards?

Pederson said the present state laws don't seem to be designed to protect the people. And to enforce the laws, he said, the state has only one man working on air pollution in the entire U. P.

All three men suggested that state laws which may be acceptable in heavily industrialized areas like Detroit where severe air pollution problems already exist are not sufficient to preserve the environment where serious pollution problems do not exist.

Sabucco said the state should provide assistance to local areas in drafting anti-pollution standards. He said the "Save

Our Air" committee has spent its own money to write the ordinance introduced to the Board of Supervisors and that he doesn't believe "this is the way government should operate."

No Nuisance

Christiansen, who has made many statements recently regarding the plans of the Escanaba Paper Co. to construct kraft pulp mill as part of its Publishing Papers Center in Escanaba, reiterated his belief that the pulp mill will not cause a nuisance in the area. He said Mead Corp., parent firm of Escanaba Paper Co., does not believe industry should pollute the environment and that the company is designing air pollution control equipment in a "combination never so comprehensively employed" for pulp mill at Escanaba to eliminate the odors from the process.

Detailed plans for the pulp mill, Christiansen said, will be presented to Michigan authorities in the near future as Mead applies for a permit to build the mill. Construction is expected to start next year with completion scheduled for 1972.

Mother Pleads With Army To Let Son Alone

SWARTZ CREEK (AP)—The mother of a 22-year-old Army corporal said her son has been questioned by the Army in the burgeoning scandal over the alleged massacre of South Vietnamese civilians and that he wrote, "Mother, may God forgive me for killing them like I was ordered to do."

Mrs. Joseph Gage of Swartz Creek, a small community near Flint, told the Detroit News her son, Kenneth Shiel, was being questioned repeatedly at Ft. Bragg, N.C., about the incident which allegedly took place in March, 1968.

"He did what he was ordered to do. If he had refused an order, they would have shot him, wouldn't they?" asked his mother, with tears running down her cheeks. Shiel has been awarded a Purple Heart, Silver Star and a Bronze Star.

"Why don't they leave him alone?" she cried. "What more do they want from him?"

Shiel, now on duty with the 2nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, served in Vietnam with the 11th Infantry Brigade, which has been named in the deaths of 100 civilians at My Lai.

Shiel is serving his second hitch in the Army, despite his family's pleas that he quit to seek medical help.

The former Swartz Creek High School football star volunteered for the draft a few months after graduating. He received combat training in Hawaii as a "tunnel rat," whose job includes entering caves and tunnels to flush out the enemy.

After returning from Vietnam, Shiel underwent private psychiatric treatment at the Army's suggestion, according to his mother.

"He didn't call it a massacre," Mrs. Gage explained in discussing her son's letters. "He said they were ordered to clean out a village. They were told it was a Viet Cong village."

Asked whether her son feared the incident would return to haunt him, she replied he was "scared that he won't get justice."

Citizens Offer Proposal To End Teachers Strike

A step toward the possible solution of the dispute between teachers and Board of the Big Bay de Noc School District came with a proposal from a citizens committee that met Monday night.

The citizens fact finding committee, named after the committee plan was suggested at a recent PTA meeting, is composed of nine persons, and its session last night was conducted by the Rev. Ephram Sitko of Garden, who presided.

Carl Freiberg, president of the Big Bay de Noc Education Association, said the teachers met at 2 p. m. today in the Garden Community building to discuss the proposal advanced by the committee.

The citizens committee had been agreed upon as an impartial group to work out a solution, and met last night with the negotiating teams from both sides.

After several hours discussion the committee suggested a possible solution to the impasse that has closed the Big Bay de Noc Schools.

Freiberg said the teacher negotiating team feels the proposal is reasonable, and while it does not provide everything the teachers were granted by the state-appointed impartial fact finder "it is still a realistic proposal."

"It does one very important thing — to bring the salary schedule of the teachers of the Big Bay de Noc District up to the average of all the schools in the Upper Peninsula," Freiberg said.

There has been no announcement by the School Board of its plans for a meeting to consider the proposed solution.

Permit Needed To Transport Christmas Tree

There's a special delight in cutting down your own Christmas tree and hauling it home to your fireside. Many Michigan residents traveling to the north country before the holidays, such as deer hunters, continue this nostalgic tradition.

However, transportation of Christmas trees and evergreen boughs is illegal in Michigan without a bill of sale or proof of property ownership. Provisions of the law are spelled out by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

During December, an exception to the law permits transportation of not more than two trees without a bill of sale, if they were legally obtained. Necessary legal forms are available from the Lansing and regional offices of Michigan Department of Agriculture, State Police Posts, county extension offices and county sheriffs.

Lost Hunters Walk Out Safe

MANISTIQUE — Three lower Michigan hunters who had been lost overnight in the McDonald Lake area of Mueller Township walked out of the woods at 11:45 a. m. today — dragging a deer.

State Police said the men were sighted from the air this morning by Vern Bernard of Manistique, who had joined the search over the area south of McDonald Lake.

Officers said early this morning that they believed one of the hunters had fired an answering shot to police.

The men — Ronald Jones, 30, John Kloss, 23, and Roger Sukoraw, 25, all of Taylor — were reported missing to State Police about 5 p. m. Monday by Jack Jones of Gulliver. Jones told troopers he had last seen them about 8 a. m.

Department of Natural Resources officers had joined State Police and Bernard in the search.

The three men from Taylor were the only hunters reported lost in the Upper Peninsula Monday. No additional gunfire accidents or heart attack victims were reported as the deer season headed into its final week.

GLADSTONE City Commission Asks Discussion On Air Ordinance

The City Commission of Gladstone will attempt to schedule a meeting with the Escanaba Council to discuss the proposed anti-pollution ordinance.

Meeting in regular session Monday night, the Commission expressed its desire to obtain further information on the power of any outside commission to close local industry. Commissioners said they have not been sufficiently informed as to the content and implication of the ordinance proposed for Delta County by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air.

The ordinance is being considered by the Delta County Board of Supervisors, but if passed would apply uniformly throughout Delta County, including the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone.

Following a public hearing on city-owned property in the east end, the Commission accepted the recommendation of the Planning Commission to rezone from Class A residential to Class B residential the area bounded by Michigan and Minneapolis Aves., from 2nd to 4th Sts.

The action was taken to permit construction of multiple unit dwellings in the area. Statewide Real Estate Agency is considering construction of an apartment building in the area, which is near Fairview Manor, the city's senior citizens apartment building.

Paul Jarvis, 324 Michigan Ave., expressed concern on the number of people residing in the area presently. He said 48 families presently reside in the housing project and that he believes the added population from another apartment building would create a traffic problem.

Voting Machines Tabled City Manager H. J. Hennickson said that in an average block 12 families use the streets, whereas in Fairview Manor the majority of the apartments are occupied by single persons.

The Planning Commission recommended that the property

Sault Residents Demand Tax Vote

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Residents of Sault Ste. Marie have presented petitions demanding a vote on a city income tax which was approved earlier this month by the city commission.

The ordinance adopted by the commission would have made the tax effective as of Jan. 1 if there had been no call for a referendum. The vote is expected to be taken sometime early next year.

Birmingham Woman Gets Birthday 'Rings'

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Dorothy Guttenberg got a ring for her birthday. Then another ring, and another and....

"The phone has stopped ringing. People have called me from all over," said a joyous Mrs. Guttenberg as she celebrated her 50th birthday Monday.

"I've had at least 300 to 400 telephone calls from people wishing me happy birthday," said the Birmingham housewife and registered nurse.

It all happened because her husband, Larry, also 50, placed a small ad in a Detroit newspaper.

"Please call Dorothy Guttenberg, 647-1620," the advertisement read. "It's her birthday today. Her husband Larry."

The phone started ringing at 10 p. m. Sunday in the Guttenbergs' suburban home.

Guttenberg, a mortgage banker, kept mum as the mysterious calls from wellwishers continued to pour in.

"At 3 a. m. I took the phone off the hook. I had to get some sleep," she said. At 6:45 a. m. she replaced the receiver and the phone resumed jangling.

Guttenberg broke his silence about the calls and "at eight o'clock this morning he finally confessed," said Mrs. Guttenberg. He left for work. His wife continued answering the phone and he returned Monday night.

A son, 16-year-old Arnold, pitched in with answering the phone—but not Guttenberg.

"He hasn't answered any of them," he pouted. "He just hands me the phone."

Guttenberg said he placed the ad because "I just want to let her know what I think about her. Do you know a better way?"

"He wants me to remember this as a special birthday," said Mrs. Guttenberg, "and I'm going to remember it for a long time."

Sbd said "99 per cent of the callers are men, and that's very flattering."

She said the callers are "very nice. They think it's funny, she laughed. They say I must have a very nice husband and I'm a very special wife, and I agree with the last part."

On The Sidelines With Mike Utt

Football fans in the Upper Peninsula got an extra treat Saturday afternoon while watching the Michigan Wolverines put an end to the Ohio State Buckeye's 22-game winning streak, as a former U. P. player, Barry Pierson, a quarterback for St. Ignace during his prep career, had himself quite an afternoon in the Wolverine defensive backfield, intercepting three passes and running back a punt for 80 yards to set up Michigan's third touchdown.

Don Moorhead, Michigan's quarterback in the tremendous upset, called Pierson's punt return the turning point of the game. Saturday's game was not a flash in the pan performance by Pierson. Going into the game he led Michigan in punt returns with 19 for 232 yards and two touchdowns. Pierson also had run back three kickoffs for 65 yards. As a defensive halfback, Pierson had made 43 solo tackles, assisted on 15 others and intercepted four passes. Football fans in the Upper Peninsula can indeed be proud of this boy.

Four Houston Oilers were stranded for 13 hours on the Gulf of Mexico last Tuesday when the motor on their fishing boat failed. Included in the group of the four marooned grid-ders was Tom Domres, a former grid standout at Gladstone High School during his prep career and at the University of Wisconsin. All were reported safe after their boat was towed ashore by a Galveston County Sheriff's Department boat, and all were on hand Sunday when the Oilers routed the Miami Dolphins 32-7.

GAMES WANTED — Mike Forsberg, head basketball coach at the Powers-Spaulding High School, is looking for more games for the Tigers, defending champions in the Sky-Line Conference and runners-up to State Class D champion Marquette Bishop Baraga in the regional finals. Forsberg says that the Tigers have open dates on Tuesday, Jan. 20, Tuesday, Jan. 27, and Friday, Feb. 20. Any team wishing to play Powers-Spaulding is asked to call the high school or write to Forsberg.

Bob Theuerkauf, an All-U. P. defensive back and one of the most feared runners on the Menominee Maroon football team, was named the most valuable player for the Maroons this season. Also receiving awards were Gary Enstrom, best offensive back; Rick Hoeffler, top defensive lineman; and Jim Hubbard, top offensive lineman. Theuerkauf was also named the top defensive back on the team.

Do you wonder why Martin Ledy of DeTour was named quarterback on the All-U. P. Class C-D and the All-State Class D team? If you have any doubts, look at these statistics: 125 completions in 222 attempts for 56 per cent and 1,994 yards. He also threw 21 touchdowns passes. In three seasons he threw 329 completions in 591 attempts for 5.203 yards and 60 touchdowns. Only 25 of his passes were intercepted during his career.

The K. I. Sawyer Air Base basketball team has been routing all challengers in the area to the tune of an average of 117 points per game after their first four games of the season. In one game, they jumped out to a 22-0 lead and have consistently led by as many as 40 points at halftime. The starting five is averaging 78 points per game and six players are currently averaging 11 points per game or more. The tallest man on the squad is 6 feet 6 inches and the team average is around 6 foot two or three.

Jack Brighton, basketball coach at Lake Superior State college, recently hit the elite mark of 100 coaching victories when his Lake Superior team knocked off Laurentian University of Sudbury, Ont., 90-71. Area players on the Lake Superior roster are Pat Groelund of Nahma, Randy Fehse of Hermansville and Steve Nelson of Gladstone. Groelund, returning to the Laker lineup after an absence of two years, led the team in scoring in the Laurentian game with 19 points.

Rich McCarthy, Northern Michigan University's outstanding quarterback from Kingsford, set four single-season marks this season. He accounted for 1,417 yards of total offense, breaking the old mark of 1,100 set by Tom Schwalbach of Escanaba in 1956, and his passing marks of 95 completions, 195 attempts and 1,476 yards broke records he set last year as a junior.

Big Ten Champs Dominate Squad

CHICAGO (AP) — Co-champions Ohio State and Michigan dominated the 1960 All-Big Ten football team announced Tuesday.

The AP selection board of writers and TV-radio sportscasters in the area named nine Buckeyes and four Wolverines. They parceled out three berths to Purdue, two each to Michigan State and Indiana and one each to Northwestern and Minnesota.

The Bucks, whose No. 1 rating and 22-game winning streak were ended by Michigan's 24-12 triumph Saturday, landed center Brian Donovan and fullback Jim Otis on the No. 1 offensive lineup.

They packed seven players on the defensive unit — ends Dave Whitfield and Mark DeBevo, tackle Paul Schmidlin, middle guard Jim Stillwagon, linebacker Jack Tatum, and back Ted Provost and Mike Sensibaugh.

Rose Bowl-bound Michigan placed end Jim Mandich and tackle Dan Dierdorf on offense and linebacker Marty Huff and back Tom Curtis on defense.

With heavy-duty Otis in the first backfield are Purdue's Mike Phipps, the Big Ten's record yardage maker; John Leinberger of Indiana, rushing champion; and Mike Adams of Northwestern, one of the best ball carriers in Wildcat annals.

Rounding out the line are end Ray Parson, Minnesota; guards Ron Saul, Michigan State; Don DeHalle, Indiana; and tackle Paul DeNuccio, Purdue.

Completing the defensive unit are tackle Ron Curl, MSU; and linebacker Vano Parakoskas, Purdue.

The offensive line is headed to a 200-pound average compared to 214 on defense.

STARR'S LAST PLAY — Bart Starr (15) of the Green Bay Packers slips as he goes back to pass, then tried to run the ball himself. The quarterback was hit hard by the Detroit Lions' defense and was injured, forcing him to leave the field of play in the first half of the Lions' 16-10 victory over the Packers Sunday in Green Bay. Jubilant Michigan Coach Well Known After Victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — "I'm big name now," laughed Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler, Monday. "They used to say, 'who's that guy from Michigan?'"

But since the Wolverines, 24-12 upset victory Saturday over Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked team, Schembechler has been deluged with telegrams and phone calls of congratulations.

Schembechler, who played and coached under Woody Hayes at Miami of Ohio and Ohio State for eight years, became head coach at Michigan last December.

Schembechler, who is known as a tough coach, was like a jubilant, proud new father Monday.

He broke open a box of cigars, passed them out, twirled one in his mouth and grinned.

"Okay, let's get this over with," he said with a smile to the assembled sports writers. "I'm calling the shots now."

Schembechler, the first rookie coach to win a piece of the Big Ten title since Fielding Yost in 1901, then turned to the subject of coaching.

"Coaching is the association you have with your players, more than anything else," he said.

"But we couldn't have done anything without quality kids—I mean men."

By "we" he referred to his complete staff which includes six coaches who were his assistants at Miami. He was head coach there from 1963 through last season. His teams posted a 40-17-3 record.

The 39-year-old mentor never had a losing season.

Schembechler refused to attribute Rose Bowl-bound Michigan's 6-2 season to his coaching.

"Most of the seniors on this year's squad were the nucleus of last year's team, which was 8-2," he said.

"You seldom have a successful football team unless your seniors are having their best year ever," Schembechler added.

praising the play of safety Tom Curtis, tight end Jim Mandich, defensive halfback Barry Pierson, and other seniors who were standouts all season.

"That's what helped make the successful transition," he said.

"In every transition it takes time... I think it was just a matter of putting it all together," he said before the upset over OSU.

"I think our inconsistency earlier may be attributed to the transition."

Schembechler said he watched Southern California beat UCLA 14-12 Saturday on television to become Michigan's Rose Bowl opponent.

"They looked like they've got a great team," Schembechler said.

"I haven't seen any of their films yet, but I should get them by Thanksgiving."

Schembechler talked about his telegrams and letters.

"The greatest thing I got was a letter from Fritz Crisler," he said, declining to give its content. "It was just a great letter."

Crisler was head coach at Michigan from 1938 to 1947 and athletic director from 1947 to 1968.

"I also got a telegram before the game from an alumnus all the way from London," Schembechler said. "The governor (William Milliken) also sent one."

After answering numerous questions, the husky coach looked at his watch and said: "It's time for me to go."

"I've got a lot of speaking engagements all of a sudden and right now I have to start making plans for the Rose Bowl."

"Where's my coat?" he asked, looking all around.

"That isn't it. Mine's the one with the frayed sleeves."

"Now where did I put my cigars?" he asked, seemingly flustered for the first time this season. "I don't even know where I'm going."

Michigan students know where he's going. Thousands are already preparing to make the long trip to Pasadena for New Year's Day.

Michigan Cagers Defeat Freshmen

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan varsity basketball squad made an impressive debut Monday night by downing the freshmen 112-73 in the annual intrasquad match.

Senior All-Big Ten forward Rudy Tomjanovich played only half the game but set the pace for the Wolverine varsity with 24 points.

Henry Wilmore, a guard from New York, led the frosh with 23 points.

Royals Give Alcindor Lesson As Bucks Lose

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's rugged defense gave Lew Alcindor another lesson in the hard knocks of pro basketball Monday night.

The Royals, headed by Connie Dierking, held the 7-foot-2 rookie to a career low of 13 points as Cincinnati breezed past the Milwaukee Bucks 129-104.

San Diego beat Seattle 112-105 in the night's only other NBA game.

New Orleans squeezed past Dallas 81-79 in the only action in the American Basketball Association Monday night.

The tight Cincinnati defense was so effective against Alcindor that the former UCLA superstar spent prolonged periods on the bench and didn't score a point in either the second or fourth quarters.

Meanwhile, Tom Van Arsdale pumped in 29 points for Cincinnati and Dierking added 25. Oscar Robertson, celebrating his 31st birthday, contributed 23.

Coach Bob Cousy, who has been restored to playing eligibility, sat out the game.

The Royals grabbed a 33-20 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Bucks managed to whittle the advantage to 50-48 in the second period before the Royals spurted away and out of danger.

Jon McGlocklin and rookie guard John Arthurs scored 13 points each for Milwaukee.

John Block drilled in a pair of free throws with two minutes left to snap a 100-100 tie and then the Rockets pulled away to whip San Diego for their seventh victory in nine games.

The Rockets had an 85-75 lead heading into the final quarter, but the SuperSonics, led by player-coach Len Wilkens, stormed to a 93-93 tie with six minutes left.

The lead then seasawed until Block, who led all scorers with 32 points, put San Diego ahead for good with his charity tosses.

Wilkens topped Seattle's scoring with 21 points, while Bob Rule and Dick Snyder each had 21 and Bob Boozer 20.

Relief pitcher Moe Drabowsky of the Kansas City Royals won 11 games and saved 11 others last season.

Texas Tops Nation In College Ratings

By The Associated Press

Goodbye, Columbus... hello, Austin.

Those famed residents of Columbus, Ohio, the Ohio State Buckeyes, went the way of all flesh in Saturday's football action and now Texas sits in the catbird seat as the nation's No. 1 college team.

When Michigan rocked Ohio State 24-12, it made reverberations all the way to Austin, Tex., where the Longhorns roam. The Associated Press' nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters voted Texas into the top spot Monday.

The Longhorns, although idle over the weekend, took over the sixth ranking with 33 first place votes and 748 points. The Buckeyes, who had 736 points last week, collected 509 and spilled to fourth.

Arkansas' Razorbacks, who collided with Texas Dec. 6 for the Southwest conference title and possibly the No. 1 ranking, moved up a notch to second after a day off Saturday. Arkansas collected 603 points and no first place votes.

Penn State thrashed Pitt 27-7 and moved up a notch to third; Southern California stayed No. 5 after toppling UCLA 14-12; Missouri humiliated Kansas 69-21.

Bristol Named Pilot Manager

SEATTLE (AP) — Dave Bristol was back in the big league baseball managing business again today, this time in Seattle, and there was only one direction for him to move up.

Bristol, out of the managerial ranks for less than two months after being fired by the Cincinnati Reds at the end of the 1959 season, signed a "multiyear" contract with the tail-end Seattle Pilots Monday at an undisclosed salary.

Best guesses were that the contract was for two years at about $40,000 a year.

Selection of the 36-year-old Bristol as the second manager of the American League expansion club was announced at a news conference Monday by Marvin Milkes, Pilots' general manager.

Milkes picked the former North Carolina schoolteacher over Billy Martin, deposed Minnesota manager who led the Twins to the championship of the American League West this year.

Martin got the word by telephone at his Minneapolis home early Monday and told Milkes: "Naturally, I'm sorry we couldn't get together. But the Pilots made a great choice... I'll be available to you and Dave if he needs any information on the league and players."

Bristol, youngest manager in the majors, has had no American League connections during his 19-year baseball career, but he said the switch didn't bother him.

Dave Bristol

"It's all baseball, and it's still predicated on one thing — winning," he said. "My only objective is to win."

Bristol got the sack at Cincinnati after 3½ years at the helm when the Reds faded from contention in the National League West in the final week of the '60 season, finishing third.

He immediately went to the Montreal Expos as a coach but was given permission to talk with Milkes about the Seattle job when it came open last week with the firing of first-year manager Joe Schultz.

Schultz was let go after a group of Seattle businessmen closed a deal for majority control of the Pilots.

Landry Leading Lions To Glory

DETROIT (AP) — Fate made him a starting quarterback six games ago, but since then Greg Landry has eliminated the Detroit Lions from a fate that had plagued them lately — cellar dwelling.

"Landry? I'd be nuts if I didn't back the kid all the way," said Lions coach Joe Schmidt.

The second-year quarterback from Massachusetts has guided Detroit to four straight National Football League victories and five in his six starts, including Sunday's 16-10 win over Green Bay.

The victory put Detroit's record at 7-3 for second place in the Central Division behind the Minnesota Vikings, 9-1, who the Lions face in a Thanksgiving Day showdown.

"He demonstrated that he can win," Schmidt said after the upset over the Packers. And say Bill Munson has been great about the entire thing."

It was a broken right hand, suffered by Munson in the first Green Bay game seven weeks ago that gave Landry the opportunity to step in and show what he could do. When Munson recovered and was reactivated last week, Schmidt elected to stay with Land

IS IT OR ISN'T IT . . . probably is what flashes through a deer hunter's mind as he decides "It is" and fires his gun and either wounds or kills another hunter. Demonstrating what the incautious hunter thinks he sees is 80-year-old Ernest Williams, 124 Weston Ave., who sports a rack and some boughs to simulate a dangerous situation. Williams is very concerned about the lack of gun safety and the many fatalities that mar hunting season every year. Snow, School Policy Issued

Students and parents have been notified that the snow and school policy of the Manistique Area Schools has been issued.

When it appears that school might have to close because of weather conditions, an attempt is made to make a decision as early as possible. School officials check with the State Police, the county garage, bus drivers, and others in the area who have reliable information.

As soon as the decision is made, WTQ radio in Manistique and WBNY radio in Newberry are notified. Students and parents are urged to listen to these stations, and to please not call the stations or school officials. Their phones are very busy, and calls to them might tie up lines necessary for calls regarding the weather.

Generally, the stations are asked to only announce when the schools are to be closed. If there is no announcement about the Manistique Area Schools, it can be assumed there will be school. Only in exceptional cases will the radio stations announce that schools are open.

If it should become necessary to close all schools before the regular dismissal time in the afternoon, the radio station will again be notified. Students within walking distance will be dismissed immediately. Bus students will be dismissed as soon as the buses are available to take them home.

McDonough New Safety Director

Patrolman Joseph McDonough was named to succeed Public Safety Director Roy Anderson at Monday night's City Council meeting.

Anderson, who has served as chief of police in Manistique since the fall of 1936, will retire Jan. 1, 1970. Although the appointment of a public safety director is left to the discretion of the city manager, councilmen unanimously concurred with the appointment.

City Manager Robert Noe said he felt a man from within the department should be named chief.

The department is a 10-man unit headed by a public safety director. Fire Chief Harry Durno serves as assistant public safety director.

McDonough, 48, has been a city policeman since July 14, 1961. He worked as a special policeman in the Detroit area from 1941 to 1947. He owned and operated the Manistique

Dedication Rites Scheduled Dec. 6 For City Projects

Formal dedication of the new City Hall and the senior citizens housing project has been scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 6.

Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton) has been invited to the ceremonies. City Manager Robert Noe told the council Monday night.

Meeting for the first time in council chambers of the new city hall, Noe reported minor "odds and ends" yet to be completed in both buildings. City administrative offices moved from the former city hall Monday.

The Public Safety Dept. is expected to vacate 5th St. headquarters later this week and move into the new complex.

There are 19 tenants in the housing project, Noe said. He also indicated an open house ice Commission two weeks ago protesting the utility's refusal to comply with an agreement to provide natural gas to this area.

Hearing Postponed
In other business, Council postponed a Dec. 8 public hearing on the urban renewal project to determine boundaries of the program pending clarification of new state legislation; approved an option to purchase a parcel of land located in the upper end of the quarry from the county for $1 which will be conveyed to the City Recreation Dept. for possible recreational development; appointed city recreation director Richard Bonifas as official city representative in making application for state recreation bond funding for development of the quarry area, and heard Noe report on his Nov. 18 meeting with the County Board of Supervisors and the discussion on township fire protection and uncollectible accident ambulance calls to rural areas.

Plaque Given For City Hall

Councilman A. J. Cayia presented a plaque which will hang in the new City Hall to the City of Manistique Monday night.

City Manager Robert Noe accepted the plaque, which features a quotation from Abraham Lincoln braced in Upper Peninsula firm. The quotation reads:

"I like to see a man as proud of a place in which he lives and I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him."

would follow the dedication ceremonies, Dec. 6, probably from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. to allow tours of both buildings.

No Street

Noe said he checked and found no record of Marquette Ave. being a dedicated street or of its having been opened. He was referring to a request for street service on Marquette Ave. made by Wayne Richards of Hancock Lumber Co. on Nov. 10. As far as the city is concerned, it's a driveway and not a street, Noe said, and added that Richards would have to pay survey costs to determine if the city owns the street before any service could be extended.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is protesting on technical grounds the city's complaint about their not supplying natural gas service, Noe reported, and recommended the city refer the complaint to acting city attorney Robert Berger for further action.

A city complaint was filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Florida Wants Cape Renamed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Florida's two senators, noting that space shots are no longer made from Cape Kennedy, said today the name of the historic spot should be changed back to Cape Canaveral.

Democratic Sen. Spessard L. Holland and Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney made their plea as the latest moon-walking astronauts—who took off from Merritt Island near Cape Kennedy in Florida—headed for a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Interior Committee, the two said their resolution to redesignate Cape Kennedy as Cape Canaveral would in no way disturb the name of the space facility on Merritt Island, known as John F. Kennedy Space Center.

Earlier space shots were made from pads at the Cape, but the current moon shots are launched from Merritt Island. The senators said their proposal was designed to restore the cape's historic name, which showed on maps as far back as 1530.

"This may well be the oldest geographic point in the United States, certainly on the East Coast," Gurney said. "It was recorded before the names of Cape Cod and Jamestown."

He said he doesn't believe that the late President Kennedy "with his appreciation for American heritage would want any action which would deprive us of such a historic name."

Gurney said newspaper polls in Florida show that 92.8 per cent of the residents of that state favor the redesignation.

The name change from Cape Canaveral to Cape Kennedy came shortly after President Kennedy's assassination in 1963.

Gurney said there had been no hearings on the proposal, and no meeting of the Interior Department's board of geographic names to act on it. And, he added, the change brought heavy protests from Florida.

Loggers Given Insurance Cut

Michigan loggers got an early Christmas present today from the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau.

It reduced the premium rate on workmen's compensation for loggers to $16.53 per $100 of payroll effective Dec. 1. The present rate is $20.16 and the change will not affect existing policies.

The rate reflects accident experience of the insurance underwriters and there have been many efforts in Michigan to promote logging safety to reduce accidents and cut the insurance rate. This has now been effected in a degree, but Michigan's accident insurance rate on loggers still is more than double that in neighboring Wisconsin, which has had a rate of $7.79 on loggers since March 1, 1968.

15th Wastewater Training Session Slated At Norway

The 15th annual training meeting for wastewater works operators in the Upper Peninsula will be held in Norway on Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 2-3, according to Cletus Courchaine of Escanaba, engineer in charge of the Northern Peninsula Office of the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Courchaine said Michigan's water quality standards require that many Upper Peninsula communities upgrade their wastewater treatment facilities to include secondary treatment and phosphorus removal. Effective operation of these facilities will require automatic sampling equipment, the strict regulation of sewer uses, and the control of combined sewer overflows, all of which will be discussed in detail at the training meeting.

About 50 wastewater works operators are expected to attend the meeting at the Moose Lodge. Registration will begin at 9 a. m., Dec. 2.

Parents Seeking Change In Law On School Funds

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eighteen parents went to Federal Court last week to challenge Missouri laws prohibiting the use of state funds to support nonpublic schools.

The plaintiffs asked that a three-judge court declare certain Missouri laws illegal and order the State Board of Education to draw up a plan for distributing state money to private schools.

The parents petition said they are subject to double charges. They said they pay taxes, part of which are used to support public schools and "parents, of necessity, pay substantial tuition, book rental fees and other charges to nonpublic schools."

The plaintiffs contend Missouri's failure to provide aid to private schools amounts to "denial of the prime right of the parents to educate their children and to practice their religion as guaranteed under the constitution."

Two of the plaintiffs are members of Citizens for Educational Freedom, an organization waging a campaign to obtain public aid for parochial schools. Its efforts are directed primarily toward helping Catholic schools.

Wrong Target

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP) — Whoever was using a light in an effort to lure deer within shooting range near this Emmet County community during the weekend must have been a bit surprised by his prey.

State Police said the person hunting illegally neatly pumped one fatal bullet into a two-year-old burro.

Ishpeming, Negaunee Face Water Problem

MARQUETTE — Communities on the Marquette iron range would have to pick up a multi-million-dollar tab if they expect to provide a permanent solution to their water source problems.

That was the message given to Ishpeming and Negaunee city managers and townships supervisors from the western half of Marquette county at a meeting here with planning division representatives of the United States corps of engineers.

In brief, they told the community representatives that either reservoirs utilizing surface waters or a huge pipeline pumping water uphill from Lake Superior would furnish the long range answer to the water problem.

Cost in Millions

Either, according to George Skene, a member of the engineers' planning unit, would cost several million dollars. He could give no exact estimate, but mentioned a figure of $20,000,000, of which the communities involved would be expected to pay at least half.

The corps of engineers has just completed a "screening" phase study in which it gathered available geological survey data and projected water needs of the iron range for the distant future. It now plans a second phase study in which it will learn how available water supplies can best be developed and made available for residential consumption as well as recreational, business and industrial purposes.

In its preliminary study, the engineers planning unit pinpointed 20 different locations for possible reservoir construction, extending from the Lake Michigan area on the west to the Escanaba river sector south of Gwinn on the east.

Waters Harnessed
Most of the surface waters in the Lake Superior watershed north of highway 41 already have been harnessed and developed for hydroelectric purposes, Skene said.

Ishpeming now obtains its water supply from Lake Selly and adjacent waters, while Negaunee's comes from Teal lake. Because of possible iron mining developments, both cities face the risk of someday losing those sources.

The corps of engineers water resources survey was requested by the Marquette county economic study committee because of Ishpeming's and Negaunee's need for improving and expanding their potable water supplies.

Students Put Final Touches On Musical

About 170 students at Escanaba Area High School are in the last phases of rehearsal for "Annie Get Your Gun," in preparation for the four-night run beginning Monday, Dec. 1.

Jackson Inmate Stabbing Victim

JACKSON (AP) — A 33-year-old convict was stabbed fatally Monday in a cellblock at Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson. Warden George Kropp said Alford Jones died in the prison hospital shortly after having been stabbed by an unknown inmate.

Prison officials sought to determine the killer.

Jones, of Muskegon, had been in the huge prison since July 30 when he was returned as a parole violator. He was paroled Dec. 9, 1968, from a term of 3 1/2 to 14 years for cashing a bad check. Jones had served two earlier prison terms for breaking and entering.

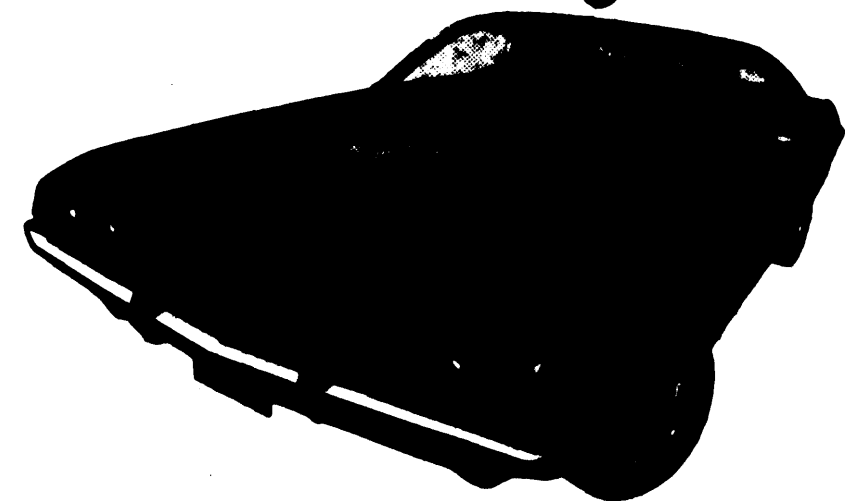

He was stabbed on the fourth gallery of Cellblock 12, a general cellblock.

Save Our Air Says 'Shut It Down'

Dust Control 8-10 Months Away, Huffman Tells Air Control Unit

BY DON HOENSCHKE
Panax Staff Writer

LANSING — The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. moved under a state order to end iron pellet rust and diesel fume pollution in Escanaba.

The Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission told the company to come back in January with a progress report.

W. H. Huffman of Chicago, assistant vice president and chief engineer for the railroad, said action will be taken immediately on moving the diesel engine staging area.

He said the railroad has already hired the R. F. Weston Co., of Westchester, Pa., an environmental science firm, to devise an iron dust pollution control system that could cost up to $600,000.

Eight To 10 Months
"With the timetable I have received, it appears to me that we are talking about a period of not less than eight to 10 months before it is installed," Huffman said.

He said the proposal from Weston would be made following a series of engineering studies to be completed within five or six weeks.

"I certainly will recommend that the proposition be accepted immediately," Huffman said. Two Delta county spokesmen said they were unsatisfied with the development, that the more than 75 homes that have been blackened by pellet dust and the people whose health is endangered need relief sooner.

"No, I'm not satisfied," said Amer Pederson, president of the Delta County Citizens Committee To Save Our Air. "I expected them to move a lot faster. 'Why do the people have to suffer for industry's profits?'"

Ask Shut Down
He and former Escanaba Councilman H. George Nelson, now a member of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, asked the commission to shut down the railroad's ore loading facility immediately.

As an alternative, they asked that it be closed down until anti-pollution equipment can be installed.

Huffman said closing the $16 million facility for that time would cost $1.5 million in tariffs alone while laying off its 50 employees at whatever damage to the economy in Escanaba it would cause.

Legal Action?
Pederson got a promise from the commission to check into the legal routes citizens might take on their own. Pederson indicated he wanted action soon.

"The property values in that area are just crashing, and we have documentation on that point," he said. "We're going to take all means possible to have this nuisance stopped."

At the suggestion of Commissioner Morton Sterling, Chief of Detroit's air pollution program, the State Health Department's Occupational Health Division will run checks in Escanaba to determine if the iron dust is a health hazard.

"I would place the problem at this time in the nuisance category, rather than a health hazard," said Bernard Bloomfield, Chief of the division.

Started In Spring
State Engineer Dan Meyer said his survey in Escanaba showed the problem started last spring with a process changeover. The major problems, he said, arise from the oreload dumper, the stacker and the switching of the empty rail cars.

He said the problem first came to state attention when a fellow state engineer saw clouds of iron dust rising while watching the dedication of the new facility last spring on television.

"Then we started getting complaints from people up there," he said. "A great many things started to happen all at once. They loaded ore before, but the process was different."

Meyer said that most of Michigan's iron shipments pass through Escanaba, but Huffman said later that Marquette facilities handle as much or more.

Letters Presented
While the iron dust pollution problem is great, Meyer said the case involving the Mead

Corp. in Escanaba has greater general impact.

Pederson presented 14 letters from residents, some who live only 59 yards from the diesel staging area and the dispatch building, telling graphic accounts of damage of homes, yards, shrubs and cars.

"These people close their doors and windows even in the summer and don't go out, except for maybe a ride," Pederson said.

Huffman told the commission the railroad is a carrier only and there should be some relief from the five major plants making iron pellets in the Upper Peninsula.

Diesel Problems
Pederson and Nelson said the diesel engines — as many as eight at one time — stand running in the yard, creating fumes and vibrations that have cracked the walls of some nearby houses.

Huffman said moving the dispatch building would be an efficiency problem, but "physically it can be done." He said three diesels are in the area normally, two taking 50-car groups to the rotary dumper and one used for switching.

The staff recommendations were to control the dust problem on a year-around basis and move the dispatch building, possibly north of the dumper away from the homes and businesses.

Ore Stockpiled
Huffman said the facility has dumped as many as 800 cars in a 24-hour period, handles over 20,000 cars a year, and has 500,000 tons of iron pellets stockpiled now and will continue to stockpile in the off-season, probably two million tons ready for shipment in the spring.

The ore and the pellets are loaded onto Great Lakes cargo ships for steel mills.

"There's no way we can tell the owner what kind of pellets he can send," he said. "We're a carrier and we have absolutely no control over the material."

Pederson showed the commission motion pictures of the operation with dust rising opaquely from the dumper and the stacker. They said even the photographer's zoom lens was fouled by dust.

Black Snow
"These people can't hang their wash out," Pederson said. "They can't do anything but stay inside or go for a ride someplace. I should just like to express the wishes of the people I represent and ask that you shut this facility down immediately. It's unbelievable."

Nelson said he wanted a Commission guideline on "How Tough" an ordinance now before the board of supervisors should be.

As conditions are, he said: "I suppose we could advertise Escanaba as the only city with black snow."

Wallace Geroson of Garden City, a former Kipling resident, shot a beautiful eleven-point 180 pounder while hunting out of his camp near Treenary Tuesday afternoon.

Randy Johnson, 18, knocked down a 160 pound spikehorn while hunting out of Lindstrom's Camp at Round Lake near Munising. The deer was the second in Randy's young hunting career.

Howard Moorhead of Gaylord bagged a fine twelve-point buck Monday while hunting on the Stoughton Peninsula. The animal weighed 230 pounds dressed out.

Tony Adams of Newport, Mich., gunned down a 130 pound spikehorn Sunday while hunting on the Stoughton Peninsula. It was his first U. P. hunt.

Two hunters from Monroe got bucks recently while hunting near Ensign. Fred Sheets got a three-point 125 pounder Monday, while Jim Berns bagged a twelve-point 165 pounder the day before.

Brodersen Held Over For Trial

John Carl Brodersen, 19, of Norway, Mich., by waiver filed in Delta District Court, is being held for trial in Circuit Court on a charge of possession and control of marijuana.

A preliminary hearing had been scheduled in District Court for 1:30 this afternoon but this was waived and Brodersen is to appear for trial in the January term of Circuit Court.

The charge is a felony that carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison upon conviction. Brodersen is free on bond for his appearance in Circuit Court.

Escanaba city police arrested Brodersen on Oct. 30 after he came crashing through a plate glass doorway of a commercial building at 714 Ludington St. Brodersen was slightly injured and was taken to St. Francis Hospital.

Police said that Brodersen told them he had taken LSD about 5 a. m. that day in an apartment in the rear of the building occupied by two Oneonta, N. Y. young men Stanley W. Hojnacki, 20, and Edward Scull, 19.

Hojnacki and Scull entered pleas of guilty to the use of marijuana, a misdemeanor, and are to be sentenced by Delta District Judge Dean Shipman.

At the preliminary hearing for Hojnacki and Scull, on motion of the prosecutor, the charge against the two was reduced from control and possession to use of marijuana.

The lesser charge carries a maximum penalty of $2,000 fine, one year in prison or both.

Police testified at the preliminary hearing for Hojnacki and Scull that Brodersen told them he had purchased LSD and marijuana in Minneapolis on Oct. 30. Scull and Hojnacki were with him on the trip but not at the time he made the purchase, officers said Brodersen told them.

Brodersen had lived in Gladstone for a few months before his arrest. Scull and Hojnacki rented the first floor of a building at 714 Ludington, and resided there but a short time, and planned opening a shop.

U.S. Official To Speak Here

The federal co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, Alfred E. France, will speak on "Regional Development—Way of the Future" at the noon luncheon Tuesday of the quarterly UPCLAP delegate body meeting in Escanaba.

Delegates to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress will convene at 10 a. m. at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center. The luncheon, which is open to the public, is scheduled at Marco's.

France, who took office June 24, is the top federal representative on the commission, which includes the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, one of five established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act, aims at long-range programs to increase jobs and income in 119 counties of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

Before his appointment as federal co-chairman, France served four terms in the Minnesota legislature and was chairman of the House Committee of the Fire Class committee. He was involved in taxation, education, government reorganization, workman's compensation and state economic development.

UPCLAP delegates will also hear an explanation of the concept of resource conservation and development districts in the Upper Peninsula by Del Meister, area conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Marquette, and consider proposals for the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

Luncheon reservations can be made by calling UPCLAP, 786-4701.
